WHAT'S OUR STORY

With a 70-year legacy, we're the hotel management company behind some of the most newsworthy vacation hot spots

Spanning four of the major Hawaiian Islands, continental U.S., and Central America, chances are you've heard of us...

HAWAIIAN HOTELS ARE GIVING AWAY ECO-FRIENDLY SUNSCREEN
as mentioned in Travel + Leisure, San Francisco Chronicle, and more, in our efforts to protect Hawaii's reefs

Waikiki's hip new place to stay, according to The New York Times

It all began in the 1940s when a shipwrecked Frenchman fell in love with a girl from Hawaii...

Together Joseph and Annalie Tatibouet opened a small 14-room walk-up hotel in Waikiki, creating what would grow into one of Hawaii's best-known hospitality companies.

1948: Joseph and Annalie Tatibouet open The Royal Grove Hotel – the start of Hotel Corporation of the Pacific.

1979: The company's growing portfolio spans all four major Hawaiian Islands: Oahu, Kauai, Island of Hawaii, and Maui.

1986: The company rebrands as "Aston Hotels & Resorts" and hosts more than 500,000 guests that year.

1998: Aston joins ResortQuest International, the largest vacation rental company in North America.

2001: Aqua Hotels & Resorts, a boutique company, launches and quickly ranks among Hawaii's fastest growing companies, earning titles like "Best Place to Work," "Hawaii's Fastest 50," and "Healthiest Employer."

2007: Aston becomes an operating segment of Interval Leisure Group, Inc.; Aqua continues to expand, introduces the Lite brand.

2013: Aston acquires Aqua Hotels & Resorts; in 2015 the company rebrands as, "Aqua-Aston Hospitality."

2018: Today, the Aqua-Aston Hospitality portfolio of 40+ properties includes global brands like Hilton Inc.

And a few projects...

In all we do, we strive for growth that celebrates (and protects) unity, inclusiveness and this piece of paradise we call home...

Our Corporate Social Responsibility campaign,  is supported by three key pillars:

Art & Culture	Equality & Diversity	Sustainable Tourism
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Celebrating Hawaii’s host culture through support for programs and events that highlight Hawaii’s history, culture and unique sense of place in collaboration with the Bishop Museum and Honolulu Museum of Art• Partnering with Hawaii’s cultural art festivals including the Honolulu Biennial and Honolulu International Film Festival in support of exhibiting artists hailing from countries and continents linked by the Pacific Ocean, and beyond	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Leading the way for LGBT travel and hospitality in Hawaii – creating culture of inclusivity across sales, marketing and operations• Supporting opportunities for all in the workplace through sponsorships, mentorship programs, and events that invest in women’s professional development	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• A reef-safe sunblock initiative (#ForOurReef) that includes a trade-in program, hotel and community reef-safe sunscreen dispensers, and educational information to protect Hawaii’s reefs against coral bleaching• Pursuing property-specific greening initiatives including going plastic-free, and certifications around energy, water, and waste• Supporting Waikiki Aquarium’s coral propagation project and PSA campaigns

“Malama Honua” is Hawaiian for “care for our Island Earth.” Our sustainable initiatives are exactly that...

As one of the largest hotel and resort-condo operators in the Hawaiian Islands, we consider ourselves champions of sustainable tourism. Our #ForOurReef campaign was initiated on Earth Day in April 2017, and since then, we have distributed over 50,000 samples of reef-safe sunscreen and informational pamphlets to both visitors and the local community to raise public awareness of protecting Hawaii’s fragile, coral reef ecosystem.

Most of our properties have activated the #ForOurReef initiative onsite in various forms such as: providing guests sample size reef-safe sunscreen upon check-in; installing reef-safe sunscreen dispensers poolside; selling reef-safe sunscreen at spas or sundry shops onsite; and also providing an exclusive guest amenity of a .34 oz. tin of reef-safe sunscreen when guests book a premium suite at participating properties.
